Student, Staff Safety Never Compromised...

Bizzare Gun-Waving At AHS Called Senseless Lack Of Judgement

The suspension of the popular Agawam High School guidance director following a bizarre gun-waving incident at the school has left most educators and School Committee members contacted by The Advertiser News using adjectives like "tragic," "mindless," "senseless," and "unbelievable."

Because of the September 30th incident, AHS Guidance Director Alan R. Cohen has been suspended for 30 days without pay by Principal Joseph S. Zabielski. Moreover, Cohen, who serves as the coordinator for guidance in the Agawam Schools, was demoted from that post by his immediate superiors in the School Department, Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Ameruoso and Associate Superintendent for Educational Services Mary A. Czajkowski. Cohen was promoted to that post last September.

Cohen answers to Zabielski as a guidance counselor at AHS and is supervised by Ameruoso and Ms. Czajkowski because of his coordination of guidance services at the other schools.

Also, rookie Agawam Police Officer Andrew A. Parrelli, a Community Policing officer at AHS, was demoted to routine patrols on the third shift.

Virtually everyone contacted by The AAN was in deep remorse about the gun incident involving Cohen and Parrelli. Cohen was described as an outstanding guidance counselor who had made a positive impact on the lives of many students and their families.

No "Cover-Up"

According to Zabielski, there was never a threat to the safety of any student or staff member because of the incident. He added that an investigation by the District Attorney's Office determined no charges should be filed, bearing witness to the fact that the gun-waving did not pose a public safety threat.

"It was quickly determined there was no danger or threat. That is always first and foremost. But the public perception seems to be that our silence since the incident happened was because we were trying to sweep this under the rug. That was the farthest thing from my mind and if parents have this perception, I am sorry for this," said Zabielski.

Zabielski, as well as Associate Superintendent of Schools Donald Charest, vehemently denied any "cover-up" by either the School Department or the police.

"I was not trained for anything like this. I thought the best way to tackle this was by the book and follow the law. I was banned from talking about this until we had followed due process. We didn't want to jump to any conclusions without an investigation," Zabielski said Wednesday afternoon.

Charest added, "Obviously, we wanted to explain what was happening to the public and especially to the parents. But this was a personnel matter and we wanted to make sure we followed the law. We waited for seven or eight reports to come in and then give Mr. Cohen his hearing."

Charest said Cohen, Agawam Education President Andrew Bower, an attorney from the Massachusetts Teachers Association, Zabielski, and School Department Attorney John Teahan gathered for the scheduled hearing on Tuesday afternoon.

The September 30th incident, according to police reports, occurred in the school's Guidance Department when Cohen asked to handle Parrelli's 9MM Smith & Wesson service pistol.

Police Sergeant Wayne Macey, head of the APD's detective bureau, said in a published report that Parrelli emptied the magazine and racked back the clip (effectively unloading the weapon).

The AAN was told that one student was in the office at the time and a second soon entered. The gun was never pointed at the students. One of the students present during the gun-waving related the incident to a teacher during a class, who, in turn, reported what had happened to the school's administration.

Company May Appeal Council's Denial For Oil Storage...

Berkshire Power Seeks Ruling On Possible "Conflict" With Councilor

by Kathy Cassanelli
News Editor

Two days after Town Council rejected their application to store 500,000 gallons of fuel oil at the Berkshire Power plant, company officials called a press conference charging a town councilor with conflict of interest for even participating in the debate on the issue, let alone voting on it.

Boston Attorney Janis Berry, a former member of the Board of Massachusetts Bar Overseers, said Berkshire Power is asking the Massachusetts Ethics Commission to look into its concerns that a conflict of interest on the part of Councilor Gina M. Letellier may have tainted the process beyond remedy by the Town Council.

Ms. Berry said the company will wait for a ruling from the Ethics Commission before deciding whether to appeal the council's 8-3 vote against the oil storage license in court or at other state agencies. The commission could order another public hearing and vote at Town Council, as well as fines and sanctions if it determines a serious conflict exists. Other solutions include finding that the jurisdiction has been so irretrievably harmed that the council cannot reconsider the vote. Rather, other entities, like the Energy Facilities Siting Board, may have to reconsider the vote.

Geometrically Opposed Ideas

Both Ms. Berry and Councilor Letellier cite provisions of the state law governing the way public officials must conduct themselves if their private interests conflict with their public duties. Not surprisingly, both attorneys have geometrically opposed ideas on the meaning of the law and even which sections of the law apply in this case.

In a memo delivered to town councilors prior to last Monday night's vote, Berkshire Power says that because Councilor Letellier "maintains a financial interest in the activities of the Concerned Citizens and Businesses of Agawam, and in fact, is presently owed a substantial debt ... for legal services rendered, her participation in City Council votes and decisions relating to permitting, licensing, or other approvals for the Agawam project appears to be in direct violation of G.L. 268A, section 19," which bars municipal employees from participating in their official capacity in any matter in which they have a financial interest.

In her own memo to the council, Ms. Letellier uses the same law and section to assert, "I do not have a reasonably foreseeable financial interest in the outcome of tonight's proceedings. Whether or not the oil storage permit is granted, the debt owed by the CCBA remains unchanged."

But, Ms. Berry insists, "The law is very clear. Councilor Letellier should not have voted or participated in the process at all."

At issue is an unpaid $12,000 bill for legal services rendered by Ms. Letellier in 1995 and 1996 while representing the CCBA in court, at the Zoning Board of Appeals, and in Town Council proceedings involving the Berkshire Power project.

In a disclosure statement faxed to the Ethics Commission at 5:45 p.m. the night of the council vote, Ms. Letellier states, "My office is still owed legal fees for that representation. These outstanding fees have in no way influenced my position regarding the oil storage permit application."

Ms. Letellier said she is standing by her statements to the commission and points out that her questions during the public hearing and her action in sending a letter to the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company seeking to verify statements made by Berkshire Power and contradicted by plant opponents demonstrates that she did not take statements made by either side at face value. "I don't just take the word of opponents or proponents. I back things up with information I research for myself," Ms. Letellier said.

Berkshire Power Has No Concept Of Right And Wrong

To The Editor:

It is an undisputed FACT that Berkshire Power has successfully coerced citizens and local businesses into signing "SILENCE" contracts with them. Most other citizens and businesses are just plain scared to speak out against them.

Now, Berkshire Power is attempting to intimidate our City Council with similar scare tactics. What B.P. is doing to Agawam City Councilor Gina Letellier infuriates me, but it does not surprise me. It is a typical M.O. that they have used in the past.

For instance, if a common citizen refuses their money in exchange for a contract requiring that citizen's silence about the project, then that citizen is accused of extortion. So then, it only stands to reason in Berkshire Power's logic that if a politician doesn't attend their extravagant victory parties or accept gratuities during election time or otherwise, then that politician should be subject to a "conflict of interest" accusation.

If Berkshire Power is our "good neighbor," why is it then that everything they get in Agawam has to hurt someone in one way or another? What they are trying to do to Gina Letellier is without conscience. It is void of feelings.

They have no concept of right and wrong, and they are blinded by their own money and power.

Beautification Committee Praises Redesign Of AHS

To The Editor:

The Beautification Committee voted to extend congratulations to Mayor Johnson and all those who worked with him for the successful completion of the redesigned High School. As viewed from the street, what was formerly a nondescript building at the other end of a huge, black asphalt parking lot has been transformed into the crown jewel of Agawam's school system.

The High School can now be viewed with pride by all citizens of Agawam as a physical expression of Agawam's commitment to quality education and as a physical symbol of that commitment to its young people. Special recognition is directed to the extra effort made in the handling of the front entrance.

If a jewel to be appreciated must be placed in a proper setting, the new sign (which echoes the lines of the tastefully redesigned new front entrance), plus the new wall and the landscaping which surrounds it all, is precisely the proper setting needed.

Thanks for a job well done.

Let's Carefully Examine Three Candidates For Gov.'s Council

To The Editor:

Re: The Governor's Council - Few realize how powerful a role this office plays. People assuming this office can reinforce one's God-given rights, or destroy them. Consider the following issues.

1) PARDONS. The granting of full pardons is a prerogative of the Governor's Council, and ought not be confused with commutation or parole. A pardon, in essence, erases a criminal conviction, and should therefore reinstate all rights forfeited in conviction. For the wrongfully convicted, it therefore restores justice as is its intent.

To suspend the Second Amendment rights of the duly pardoned is therefore cruel and morally wrong. One candidate, however, would do precisely that even if the so-called "offense" of the duly pardoned involved the possession of an innocuous (albeit infamous) plant. Indeed, this candidate would even (apparently) suspend the Second Amendment rights of the duly pardoned, whether their conviction on even the most innocuous of "possession" charges was wrongful or not. I view this as Draconian and immoral.

2) VICTIM'S RIGHTS. A code phrase for the denial or mitigation of due process, the concept of "victim's rights" is widely hailed by those who would eliminate the rights of people accused and under suspicion. Intended as it is to bias the process, the concept is a broad assault on the Fourteenth Amendment and impartial trial.

To suspend Fourteenth Amendment rights of people but accused, and therefore presumed innocent, is therefore prejudicial and also morally wrong. One candidate, however, would do precisely this as well - via the screening of judicial appointments in accordance with a litmus test of Hanging Judge ideology.

Such intemperate ideological intervention in the judiciary threatens not only due process, but also the system of checks and balances. It could even threaten to reduce our system of justice to something akin to the British Star Chamber. This unconscionable assault on civil rights is also Draconian and morally wrong, in my view.

3) When we finally do vote on Election Day, be sure to have studied all three candidates for this office very carefully. We might find at least one of the three to be far too Draconian.

Sincerely,
Owen Broadhurst

Kasparian Makes Pledges In Campaign For Gov.'s Council

To The Editor:

Former Hampden County Commissioner Abraham Kasparian, Jr. of Agawam early this year obtained the nomination for the Governor's Council by the voters of Western Massachusetts. When elected, the unenrolled/independent candidate, Kasparian has pledged the following:

1. Work to restrict any individuals who have been convicted of violent crimes against persons or property along with any persons engaged in illegal narcotic activity from obtaining restoration of their rights to "ship, transport, possess, or receive firearms" when requesting a pardon from the Governor's Council. The current practice of the Governor's Council does not follow this basic common sense rule. "During the previous year, the Governor's Council re-armed 20 known violent and/or drug-related offenders. Most of the motions were made by Eddie O'Brien," Kasparian said.

2. Kasparian plans on being accessible to the general public by posting weekly scheduled meetings. Kasparian said, "This has never been the practice of the Governor's Council member currently representing the Eighth District. "It is time to bring the government to the people that it represents," Kasparian went on to say.

3. Maintaining an informational Web Site that would service all four counties within the Eighth District of Western Massachusetts and provide the meeting minutes and other Council-related information to the people.

4. Appointing judges that are more concerned about victims' rights than criminals' rights.

5. Kasparian will ensure that the voice of Western Massachusetts is heard in Boston.

Question Number 2, the Clean Election Initiative, on this year's ballot, was generated to give all qualified candidates an even playing field to get their message and the issues out to the public. Kasparian said, "This is a good start in cleaning up controlled elections in the Commonwealth." Kasparian will seek State Representative Dan Keenan to assist in drafting legislation that amends the election laws that would compel the print media to provide equal coverage to each qualified candidate for all Constitutional offices in the Commonwealth, as the FCC compels electronic media (television and radio) to do.

Melconian Moves To Protect Veterans' Ceremonies

Assistant Majority Leader Linda J. Melconian (D-Springfield) is responding to the number of concerns that veterans' groups have expressed to her over the newly enacted ban on assault weapons, Chapter 180 of the Acts of 1998.

As part of its sweeping prohibition on assault weapons, the new law also bars the use of unloaded rifles by veterans' groups in parades, military reenactments, and funeral firing squads.

"Stopping practices which have existed since the founding of the Republic, such as a 21-gun salute at a veteran's funeral, is clearly not the purpose of this legislation," Melconian said. "The Senate is acting quickly to assure that the law does not adversely impact Veteran's Day ceremonies."

The Senate is moving to correct this legislative oversight with a Senate amendment that will allow unloaded rifles (defined to also include rifles loaded with blanks) to be used in drills, parades, military reenactments, or other commemorative ceremonies, color guards, or memorial service firing squads.

This exemption should protect traditional Veteran's Day festivities and future veterans' ceremonies from disruption. The Senate hopes to have the amendment passed by the end of the month.

The amendment also contains some technical corrections to the assault weapon ban, including an exemption for officials licensed to carry arms and a provision maintaining the status quo by continuing to allow veterans to be licensed to carry a firearm without an FID license.

"I have consistently opposed passage of this assault rifle ban," Melconian said. "Its enforcement provisions are not powerful enough and will serve only to disarm law-abiding citizens."

Veterans' Corner...Some Highlights From Seminar On State Vets' Memorial Cemetery

by Ruth C. Bitzas

Veterans' Agent — 786-0400, Ext. 236/237

Last month, a seminar on the State Veterans' Memorial Cemetery to be located in Agawam (along with the proposed Winchendon Veterans' Cemetery) was held at the Holyoke Soldiers' Home. Bob McKean, Director of Massachusetts State Cemeteries, presided over the event with about 100 veterans in attendance.

There was a lively question-and-answer period. It was interesting to learn that the State Office of Veterans' Services has received about 900 applications already. Over 200 of them were from Agawam, and each day we have several veterans coming in for applications.

A FEW NOTES OF INTEREST:

1) If a veteran from another state is visiting Massachusetts and expires here, he or she is automatically eligible for burial in our Veterans' Cemetery, providing he or she meets other eligibility requirements.

2) Rather than flat military markers, they will be white granite upright markers. The veteran's information will be engraved on the front of the marker, and the spouse's information will be engraved on the back. The question was asked in the case where both husband and wife were veterans, would each have a marker side by side? The answer was that each would most likely have a more narrow marker, but the state needs to look into this further.

3) If you entered the military from Massachusetts, it doesn't matter where you moved to or how long you've been out of state — you never lose your eligibility for burial in a State Veterans' Cemetery.

4) Although there is no charge for the veteran, there is a one-time charge of $300 for the spouse or child of a veteran which would be paid at the time of death. The reason being that once the cemetery is completed, the state will be responsible for the cost of upkeep of the cemetery. Administrators of the cemetery will be able to file for the federal burial benefits on behalf of the veteran, and the one-time charge for the spouse will help offset a little of the cost.

The following is a list of Agawam Korean War veterans whose active duty is credited to the town of Agawam. This week's list will include veterans whose last names begin with the letters "C," "D," and "E."

Please check the list closely for your name or the name of a loved one or friend. If you know of a name that is missing, please contact the person or family, or notify our office.

REMEMBER, we've done our research to the best of our ability; we need your help in identifying Agawam veterans in order to have the Honor Roll as complete as possible. We're located in the Agawam Town Hall at 786-0400, ext. 236/237.

State Rep. Dan Keenan Announces Open Enrollment For Non-Group Health Insurance

State Representative Dan Keenan wishes to remind individuals seeking health insurance that October is an open enrollment period for non-group health insurance. Until October 31st, individuals are able to purchase non-group health plans without pre-existing condition exclusions.

"This is the only time during the year that individuals can purchase such coverage if they have been without insurance for more than 63 days," stated Keenan.

There are three types of health plans available: health maintenance organizations (HMOs), preferred provider organizations (PPOs), and medical or indemnity plans for fee for service. There are 19 companies selling 25 non-group health plans in the Massachusetts non-group market.

The Massachusetts Division of Insurance publishes the "Consumer Information Guide: Non-group plans in Massachusetts." The guide includes a list of the non-group health plans available with contact numbers and sample prices. Prices can vary for non-group plans based on age and geography.

"Call several health plans before making a decision," Keenan advised. "A plan that is the least expensive in one age group or location may be more expensive in another."

To obtain a "Consumer Information Guide: Non-group plans in Massachusetts," please contact Rep. Keenan's district office at 786-4545.

The next few days were somewhat frantic as statements were taken and people were interviewed. School Committee member Rosemary Sandlin expressed displeasure with the failure of the School Department to make the information public. She said this would have alleviated the many rumors and stories flying around town as more and more people became aware of the situation.

Serious Lack Of Judgement

"I expressed my dissatisfaction to Dr. Ameruso that the information should have been released to the public within three days without using anyone's name. Fortunately, the incident did not pose a threat to anyone's health or safety. It was such a foolish thing to do and showed a serious lack of judgement," noted Mrs. Sandlin. According to her, she had not received any written report of the incident at presstime.

School Committee member Susan Pettazzoni told us she felt the incident confirms her beliefs that a procedure must be in place for the School Department to better deal with serious instances involving staff and students.

"For the past three years, I have been saying we need a formal procedure in place to deal with such tragic matters as this. What we now have is simply advice from our lawyer. We all need to know up front on how we will proceed so that what happens afterwards occurs in an orderly fashion."

Zabielski said he based his 30-day suspension without pay for Cohen's punishment on Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 71, Section 41D. He said the 30-day suspension without pay was the maximum penalty allowed under the law, although it can be appealed and The AAN has learned that Cohen will probably exercise this right.

Zabielski, who called Cohen "one of the best guidance counselors in the system," has received all of Cohen's caseload materials, as well as his priority items.

Caseload To Be Delegated

Zabielski said he will delegate Cohen's approximately 100 students to veteran guidance counselors Jane Williams and Judy Cohen. "Even though he showed an amazing lack of judgement, he's done so much for students and their families. I know some of them will not be comfortable with him out of the building because of his job performance. But you have to question his lack of judgement and improper conduct."

Zabielski, as well as School Committeewoman Linda Galarneau, also discounted the "zero tolerance" comparisons being used by some who feel Cohen's punishment is much less than a student would receive.

"It is a completely unfair comparison," said Mrs. Galarneau. "There is not a double standard here between students and staff. A procedure had to be followed because of all the legal issues. This was such a senseless thing. Mr. Cohen has been a wonderful guidance counselor for the students at AHS."

Zabielski said an acting director of guidance for AHS would be named from within the current staff in the next few days.

Charest added that filling Cohen's position as guidance coordinator for the schools will be handled by the front office and was unsure of the timetable for this.

Charest said the appeal process, if exercised by Cohen, may or may not happen within the next 30 days. He said each side (Cohen and the School Department) must first agree on a mediator to handle the appeal.

Some Tips For Fire-Safe Microwave Oven Cooking

Over 120,000 scald burns are treated in emergency rooms each year. The Agawam Fire Department warns that a new source of scald burns to infants is serving them both liquids and solid foods that have been prepared in a microwave oven.

- Hot liquids poured into disposable bottles may cause these bottles to burst, soaking the infant.

- Disposable bottles are not made to withstand intense microwave oven heat.

- Food microwaved may feel cool to the touch on the surface, only to be scalding hot in the middle. Many infants receive severe burns to the mouth and throat because of this.

- Parents should test the temperature of the baby's food before feeding the child.

- Additionally, parents should follow the directions provided by the bottle's manufacturer for heating instructions.

For further information, call the Agawam Fire Department at 786-2662.

Cub Scout Packs To Hold Open House

The Cub Scout Packs of Agawam have scheduled an Open House for Thursday, October 15th, at the Agawam Middle School Cafeteria, Main Street, Agawam, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.

This Open House is for boys between the ages of seven and 10 and their parents/caregivers who are interested in joining in the fun and adventure of Scouting. Representatives from local Cub Scout Packs will be in attendance to meet and talk with you about Cub Scouting.

If you and your son cannot attend the Open House but are nevertheless interested in Cub Scouting, please contact the Pioneer Trail District Personnel at 594-9196.

Many parents and adults may ask, "What is Cub Scouting?" It is a program first organized in 1930 when the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) realized that not every boy in the U.S. was experiencing the fun and adventure of Scouting.

For years, many younger brothers, neighbors, and friends tagged along on campouts, hikes, service projects, and other fun-filled activities without reaping the full benefits of being a Scout. So BSA created Cub Scouting, an exciting and adventurous program joined with the skills and values developed for younger boys.

Today, Cub Scouting provides more than two-million boys, from all backgrounds, with healthy doses of constructive fun, with an underlying emphasis on traditional values and service.

To ensure boys are involved with their peers and age-appropriate lessons, the Cub Scouting "family" is organized into three age groups:

A. Tiger Cubs - are first-grade boys who, with their adult partners, learn lessons about building family communication, preparing for emergencies, and understanding the environment. Each lesson is age-specific, and Tiger cubs are recognized each time a lesson or activity is completed. Activities include visiting a zoo and how to use a phone to report emergencies.

B. Cub Scouting - is made up of second- and third-grade boys working toward accomplishing achievements and electives outlined in Cub Scout manuals, and are rewarded with emblems for their work. The Scouts learn about proper nutrition, safety, community involvement, and making informed choices. Some activities include planning and cooking a family meal, starting a recycling program, and increasing strength and agility through exercise and family camping.

C. Webelos Scouting - (an acronym for We'll be Loyal Scouts) is designed for fourth- and fifth-grade boys. They pursue activity badges for achievements in academic skills, the outdoors, technology, sports, and community involvement geared to the older boys. Some of their activities include learning to use computers, learning a citizen's role in the nation, study of animals and insects, swimming, proper care for the Flag, and camping skills.

Cub Scouts are organized into small units called dens. They are neighborhood-based groups of same-age boys. Dens are supervised by volunteer den leaders — men and women who help the boys pursue age-appropriate activities.

Once a month, several dens meet for a Pack meeting, a highlight for the Cub Scout's entire family. Parents see their boys' interest with their friends, meet other parents from surrounding areas, and share in their sons' successes and achievements.

EVERYONE PLAYS

The den makes sure that everyone feels like a part of the group. Even the shyest boys feel at ease and open up in a comfortable den setting. Most importantly, no one sits on the sidelines and plays only for one inning. Everybody is a winner in Cub Scouting and finds a sense of accomplishment.

Of course, every youth strives to realize his full potential by following the Cub Scout motto... "DO YOUR BEST." No matter the skill or activity, the Cub Scout motto encourages young boys to set lofty goals and achieve them.

The lessons and attributes that Cub Scouting teaches will make him better at what he does best and, in the end, help him realize his full potential.

Come join us for a great night of wine and micro-brew tasting, hors d'oeuvres, music, silent auctions, and raffles. This event promises a great time for all, while raising necessary funds for ALS (Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis/Lou Gehrig's Disease) research.

Last year, the first "ALS Taste of Fame" raised $92,000 to support the Muscular Dystrophy Association's ongoing efforts to help people with ALS through research and services.

The sports-themed event was a special tribute to Bill Quinn, a Massachusetts resident who died of ALS. Quinn was an athlete and sports enthusiast who worked as vice-president of W.J. Quinn Co., Inc. a family contracting, building, and construction business.

Quinn's interests included golf, skiing, weightlifting, reading, political analysis, and travel. He was in his early 30's when he received a diagnosis of ALS in 1991.

Tickets for the "ALS Taste of Fame" are $35. For further information, call (413) 732-7464 or the Muscular Dystrophy Association at (413) 567-5500.

Golden Agers (Ch. 2) Recognize Couples At Anniversary Banquet

The Agawam Golden Age Club, Chapter 2, held its 16th Anniversary Banquet at Shaker Farms Country Club in Westfield on Wednesday, October 7th.

Club President Perry McCobb and his wife, Rose, greeted the arriving seniors and directed them to the snack table for cheese, crackers, and fruit punch during the social hour which started at 11:00 a.m.

At 12:00 noon, McCobb welcomed the club members and led them in the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by a prayer by Chaplain Leanne Dion.

The dinner began with a fresh fruit cup, crisp salad, and three delicious entrees — roast beef, stuffed chicken breast, and baked scrod. After the main course, the dessert (peach melba parfait) completed the banquet menu.

The president expressed special thanks to the Banquet Committee: Arthur and Eileen Collier, Barbara Sherry, and Louise Frank (ticket sales); Edward Grimes (table seating); Mary Spinelli (card punches); and Virginia Lake (entertainment).

Special recognition was made to the following couples celebrating 50 years of marriage — Vinton and Gwendolyn Gregory, Paul and Jeannette Lagoditz, Edward and Bruna Morassi, and Joseph and Jean Woishnis; 55 years of marriage — Perry and Rose McCobb; and 74 years of marriage — Willis and Ruth Parady.

Club Secretary Rita Matys read the life history of each honored couple, which gave places of birth, education, and employment. Also read were names of family members and favorite hobbies.

Each couple received a miniature decorated wedding cake, prepared and presented by Leanne Dion.

Dancing to the "Anniversary Waltz" concluded this special program.

Virginia Lake introduced Roland The Trumpet Man, who performed many trumpet solos and songs.

"God Bless America" was sung in closing the music program by the entire group of happy seniors.

Destined For Greatness...

Proverbs 16:25 tells us, "Sometimes there is a way that seems to be right, but in the end it is the way to death." In other words, not every bright idea which occurs to us turns out to be brilliant over time and through experience. In fact, sometimes the path we choose leads us in the exact opposite direction we intended to go.

If there was ever a person in the entire Bible who made wrong choices, surely that person would have to be Jacob. Jacob was the son of Isaac, and the grandson of Abraham. Jacob had been chosen by God to be a very special person, even before he was born. Jacob's big problem in life was that either he didn't know that God had chosen him for greatness; or perhaps he knew, but he failed to act upon that knowledge.

Jacob was a twin. His brother was born moments before he was. Under the custom of his days, Jacob's brother, Esau, would inherit the blessings of the firstborn because he was the older brother. In the world, those few moments counted, but not as far as God was concerned. He had destined Jacob for greatness. However, every time Jacob was presented with the opportunity to exercise faith in God, he resorted to human trickery instead. The result of Jacob's behavior was that it took him an awfully long time to receive God's blessings.

Some of us are more like Jacob than not. Before any of us were born, God knew us and had established a plan for our lives. Each of us is destined for greatness. That doesn't mean we're all to be celebrities, but it does mean that God has great things in store for us. Some of us are unaware of the great things God wants to accomplish in and through our lives. Some of us have learned, mistakenly, that the route around or over faith opportunities is easier than doing things God's way. It may seem easier to compromise our values or integrity rather than to stand upon our principles, but later on all we're left with is regrets. It may be quicker to take shortcuts, but by taking the expeditious route, we oftentimes miss valuable experiences. Sometimes there is a way that seems to be right, but in the end, it is the way to death.

Because of his shenanigans, Jacob had to hightail it out of town and away from his family. He wound up living with his uncle, who was even more devious than himself. All the tricks Jacob had played on his father and brother were nothing in comparison to the deception his uncle displayed. Jacob paid dearly for falling for his uncle's lies, just as his father and brother had paid dearly for Jacob's lies. Having refused to trust God in the safety and comfort of his own home, Jacob was forced to trust God under much harsher circumstances. Eventually, Jacob learned his lesson. After many years of frustration, Jacob was finally allowed to return home.

On his way back home, Jacob encountered God, face-to-face. God said to him, "You shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel, for you have striven with God and with humans, and have endured." The name "Israel" means "person of God." God's plan for Jacob had been to transform him into a person of God all along. It wasn't easy to get God's will accomplished in Jacob's life. It can be easier for us, because we have the benefit of God's Word to guide us.

All Scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, so that everyone who belongs to God may be proficient, equipped for every good work. Jacob's destiny had been to be great, a person of God. That is our destiny as well.

An Offer To Buy...

There's a myriad of details involved in selling your home. If you're planning to sell, you'll need to know how to handle offers you receive on your home.

First, you must decide on a price. Your sales associate can estimate your proceeds — the sale price minus fees, taxes, and insurance.

When you receive an offer, carefully review it because once you and the buyer sign it, it becomes the contract of the sale.

Don't be concerned if the offer is your asking price. That means you priced your home right! If the offer is less than you wanted, look at the contract as a whole. Perhaps the buyer is assuming some of the closing expenses you expected to pay. And consider splitting the difference if you and the buyer come within about $1,000 of each other.

You can accept the terms of the offer and sign it, make a counteroffer to the buyer with some changes, or reject the offer entirely. If you counteroffer, realize that there may be more counteroffers before the final agreement is signed.

As a part of the offer process, an earnest money deposit will be held by a third party until an agreement is reached. At that time, the money is usually credited to the buyer and applied to the down payment. Until you accept the offer, the buyer can get the money back. You may keep the earnest money if the buyer fails to follow through with the contract once it's accepted.

For more information on selling a home, call Pam Savioli at (413) 748-7565.

Tips For Healthy Travel...

The chances of encountering certain diseases largely depends on where you travel. Before you take your next trip, you should seek consultation with someone who is familiar with travel medicine.

The following information was provided to me by MaryJo Safford, R.N., B.S.N., Travel Medicine Program for Baystate Health Systems. Travel-related diseases can be prevented or decreased with a visit to a travel medicine professional. How far in advance should someone be seen before traveling?

International travelers should seek medical advice four to six weeks in advance of their departure date. This allows adequate time for immunizations to be scheduled and advice to be given.

What is safe to eat and drink?

There is about a 35 to 60 percent chance of acquiring traveler's diarrhea if traveling into a lesser-developed country for one month. Paying attention to safe food and drink guidelines and handwashing will reduce a person's risk while traveling. A simple phrase to remember: if you can't boil it, cook it, peel it — then forget it!

What are the mandatory immunizations?

There is only one mandatory requirement for travel — yellow fever. This is guided by the international health regulations of the WHO and is a required immunization only for travel to or through certain parts of Africa and South America.

Most of the otherwise available immunizations are not mandatory, but carry a strong recommendation in terms of health protection. This is why it is so important to contact a travel medicine professional and not to assume there is no risk of infection.

For more information "on your own," here are some web site addresses to use on THE INTERNET:

Next week, I will discuss some practical safety precautions for travel, along with some tips for senior travel.

RMV Could Surprise You

Policy Affects Pleas, Disposition of DUIs

The Registry of Motor Vehicles' policy of running a 45-day license suspension for pleading guilty to a DUI (driving under the influence) charge consecutively with the automatic 120-day suspension for refusing to take a breath test could catch many defendants off-guard, according to criminal-defense practitioners.

Prior to 1994, the Registry would typically run the suspensions concurrently, allowing, in essence, the 120-day suspension to absorb much, if not all, of the 45-day suspension.

Since 1994, however, the Registry has been separating the 120-day suspension period so that the clock is stopped upon disposition of the case and resumed once the 45-day suspension is completed. This effectively results in at least a 165-day suspension.

Since the 45-day suspension for pleading guilty to a DUI will only add to the time of a license suspension, this policy eliminates much of the incentive for a defendant not to take the case to trial.

The registry's position is that "When someone refuses the Breathalyzer and is subsequently convicted of drunk driving, there are two separate offenses that have occurred - the violation of the drunk-driving law and the implied consent law. To run them both concurrently would not give full cause and effect to both suspensions." Some argue, however, that this creates an overly harsh result that discourages defendants from quick disposition of their cases.

It has been suggested that a possible way around the new policy would be by getting an order for concurrent suspensions within the face of the disposition itself. Of course, this does not guarantee that the RMV will, in fact, uphold the court's order and impose the suspensions concurrently. It appears that presently, as long as a judge is willing to order in a disposition that the two suspensions run concurrently, the registry will generally honor the order.

"The only orders we would not honor are those where the plea happens after the 120-day period and the court tries to credit time back to before the disposition even happened," the RMV claims.

Attorney Alan L. Ferrigno maintains an office at 546 Springfield Street, Feeding Hills.

Your Mortgage Pre-Approval...

When you're ready to buy a new home, you need to be taken seriously. At THE PIONEER GROUP, we have the perfect way to show the world you're committed to making that purchase. It's called the "Show the world you're serious about buying a home" program. Whether you're a first-time buyer or thinking of moving up, we can have your loan approved before you even start to shop!

Get Your Approval Today—
It's Like Shopping With Cash

No one puts you in a better position to buy a home than THE PIONEER GROUP. This one-of-a-kind program is not just pre-approval or pre-qualification ... we can put actual approval in your hands for your maximum loan amount! Your Approved Homebuyer Certificate represents cash negotiating power. It's positive proof that you're serious about buying a home.

We Make It Simple To Buy A Home

This program isn't complicated. There are no long forms required to get your approval under way ... and the whole process only takes about 24 hours. You just answer some basic questions and provide a few simple documents. Then, we do a credit report, and if everything checks out, we can give you an Approved Homebuyer Certificate for your maximum loan amount.

With no long wait, you spend less time going through paperwork and more time going through homes in your price range. Better still, the interest rates are some of the lowest ... and, we can lock in your rate for 30 days while you shop. Then, we'll extend the locked rate up to 45 days more while the loan is being processed. With this protection, your rate won't rise if the rates go up, but can go down if the rates fall. Helping Your Body's Healing Process

"Doctor, how long will it take me to get better?" This is one of the most frequently asked questions that I'm asked. All patients want to get well as quickly as possible.

Often they want to know what can be done to speed the healing process. Since many problems are often the result of years of neglect or improper activities, the answer is not simple.

While there aren't any shortcuts to speed your body's natural healing process, here are some things you can do to give yourself the best chance of quick recovery.

Learn proper sitting and lifting methods. Specific exercises may be suggested to help retrain the muscles that support your spine.

Proper rest is an important aspect of the healing process, too. Get the appropriate amount of rest your body needs and avoid sleeping on your stomach.

During the healing process, proper nutrition is more important than ever. Make sure you eat balanced meals, and if you're overweight, now would be a good time to slim down and reduce unnecessary stresses to your spine.

Perhaps most important of all, keep your appointments and follow your chiropractic doctor's recommendation for optimum results.

Dr. Joseph Schlaffer and his wife, Dr. Katherine Schlaffer, have been helping sick people get well, naturally, for over 20 years. Call 789-1369 or 789-1073 for an appointment.

Our deadline is each Tuesday at 12:00 noon...

The Female Athlete Triad: The Silent Stalker of Women Athletes Massachusetts Dietetic Association Offers Tips On Recognizing & Avoiding This Triple Threat

When more than 6,000 women gather at the starting line for the 22nd running of the Tufts Health Plan 10K for Women, a small but growing number may share some troubling symptoms: a couple of stress fractures over the last year, some disordered eating patterns they've been hiding from friends and family or coaches, menstrual periods that have become infrequent or even stopped. When all three come together in a single female athlete, the diagnosis is often "The Female Athlete Triad."

"Too much concern over food and weight are often at the root of the Triad," says Nancy Clark, RD (registered dietitian), Director of Nutrition Services at Sports Medicine Brookline and author of Nancy Clark's Sports Nutrition Guide.

"The problem develops when severe calorie restriction reduces levels of estrogen and other hormones that regulate menstruation. When the blood levels of these hormones drop too far, menstruation stops. This causes bones to lose minerals. This loss of bone mineral puts female athletes, especially young women, at higher risk of developing stress fractures today and early osteoporosis tomorrow," explains Clark.

What Parents & Coaches Can Do

Healthy eating habits lay the foundation for healthy athletes. Both parents and their daughters' coaches have a lot of influence on eating habits. "Parents need to remember the kids watch and imitate how they relate to food. And coaches need to remember athletes will often trust advice that comes from them over a lot of other sources," says Allison Brewton-LaClaire (RD) and sport nutrition specialist at the New England Baptist Hospital's Bone and Joint Institute.

"If a parent is constantly dieting or obsessing about food, fat grams, and body image, chances are their daughters are too," cautions Brewton-LaClaire. "And many coaches are finding that working with an RD who specializes in sports nutrition improves both the health and performance of their female athletes."

Turning Around The Triad

Treating all three components of the Female Athlete Triad may require a team approach by a physician, psychologist, and dietitian. Steps may include addressing body image and self-esteem and improving dietary intake.

All young women, especially these who exercise regularly and vigorously, need to consume enough calories not only to support their active lives, but to support growth and bone development. A varied diet of 55-65 percent carbohydrates, 10-15 percent protein, and 20-30 percent fat is recommended for most athletes.

When a young woman begins improving her diet and her energy for both sports and growth are being met on a regular basis, menstruation typically resumes. Only then are bones protected from further mineral loss.

Nancy Dell, MS, is a registered dietitian in private practice in Feeding Hills and the media representative for the Massachusetts Dietetic Association. She can be reached at 413-786-2957.

How To Sit "Right" In A Chair...

A few weeks ago, we discussed how the neck bears quite a bit of weight holding up the head. Putting the head in one position for a period of time can increase the stress on the neck and produce headaches, neck pain, and stiffness.

I related how I felt discomfort after my astronomy class; spending hours in the cold evening with my neck craned in an awkward position was not very comfortable.

I suggested taking frequent breaks and stretching the region in order to keep the muscles loose. This is not only important advice for budding astronomers, but also birdwatchers, people who work on computers, etc.

This past week, class was held inside due to cloudy weather (not conducive to stargazing!). What a contrast sitting on those chairs for several hours!

I'm not sure who designs the chairs for schools and colleges — they're certainly not designed by a chiropractor! After 15 minutes, I was fidgeting and flopping around in my seat. I wonder if there have been any studies correlating comfort of seat to test scores?

I would bet there is a direct correlation between increased comfort and better test results. Anyway, the body isn't meant to stay in a restricted position for an extended period of time.

It's important to stretch your leg, back, shoulder, and neck muscles prior to and after sitting for any length of time. Also, it is important to take frequent breaks and get up and move the muscles, to increase the circulation to the arms, legs, and head region.

A chair that is correct for your body is important. The feet should both be planted on the ground, the knees should be at a 90° angle with the ground, the spine straight, the elbow at 90°, and the wrists straight. Good posture while sitting is important for good health.

A minor variance can cause great stress and fatigue the muscles sooner. Take care of your body — stretch, use good equipment, and be aware of your posture! After all, a healthy spine is a healthy body.

If you have questions or would like an idea of exercises and stretches that would be beneficial, call our office today.

Genevieve Rose Quintet To Perform At The Iron Horse

Acoustic bassist Genevieve Rose, a former resident of Feeding Hills and a 1995 graduate of Agawam High School, will present the Genevieve Rose Quintet at Northampton's Iron Horse Musical Hall this Saturday, October 17th, at 7:00 p.m.

Renowned jazz vocalist Sheila Jordan, NY Grammy-nominated pianist/composer Garry Dial, area drummer Gregory Caputo, and Boston's Ritz-Carlton bandleader/trumpeter/flugelhornist Dave Burdett round out the quintet.

Rose has just returned from a September tour of Columbia, South America, with Sheila Jordan, Matt Wilson, and Eugene Uman. The 21 year-old musician is a jazz performance and music education major at UMass-Amherst, and for two years has been an adjunct faculty member for the UMass Jazz in July summer workshop.

She received honorable mention in 1996 from the National Foundation for Advancement of the Arts; in 1997, received the UMass Billy Taylor/Fletcher Henderson award; and in 1998, was a Hamilton College National Jazz Archives inductee.

Downbeat magazine spotlighted Rose and (the late) Benny Waters in a "Tradin' Fours" article in the July 1998 issue; Saxophone Journal's March/April 1998 edition featured Waters and highlighted Rose and Waters' week at Sweet Basil, NYC; and The UMass Magazine featured Rose in the winter 1998 issue.

Rose has performed with such other notables as Bucky Pizzarelli, Cyrus Chestnut, Byron Stripling, Howard Alden, Harold Danko, Bob Wilbur, and Claude "Fiddler" Williams.

Advance tickets are available at the Northampton box office at Thorne's for only $8; at For the Record in Amherst (50¢ per ticket handling); charge at (413) 586-8686 ($1.50 extra); or at the door, $10.

Replacing Traditional "Report Cards"...

Clark Pupils Will Be Taking Home New "Student Performance Reports"

by Kathy Cassanelli
News Editor

Children at James Clark School won't be taking home any A's on their report cards this year. Or B's or C's or D's, either. Actually, they won't be taking home traditional "report cards" at all.

What they will be taking home is a two-page "Student Performance Report" that is more closely aligned with the state curriculum frameworks, gives parents more information about their child's progress, and reflects a more accurate picture of each student's achievements than a traditional report card, according to school officials.

Principal Sandra Howard said parents can learn more about the new system of assessing student performance at an informational meeting on October 21st at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

A Pilot Program

"We're doing this as a pilot program because the state has changed the way they want us to assess students. For instance, the state wants us to move away from letter grades and use portfolios or work sampling to measure student progress," Mrs. Howard said.

In addition to collecting a folder of work samples to demonstrate the skills each child has achieved, the teachers are preparing a two-page "Student Performance Report" that gives much more information about the child's progress, including a detailed assessment of specific skills in the academic areas. Student performance will be evaluated in three marking periods rather than in the traditional four marking periods, and there will be time set aside during the day for more in-depth, lengthier parent teacher conferences than under the old system," Mrs. Howard said.

The new report card was developed by a team of teachers representing each grade level at the school. According to the teachers, the new system gives parents a better reflection of their child's progress, focusing on the things the child can do rather than the things the child can't do and backing up the teacher's assessment with work samples.

Devising a new way to evaluate student performance in keeping with the mandates of the state curriculum frameworks has been a difficult transition. The committee has met with some resistance from their colleagues, even though everyone knows the changes have to be made.

"As we use the new system, people will become more comfortable with this. Like anything else that's new, it takes a few years and this is not our final product. This is a work in progress," according to third grade teacher Donna Modzelewski.

Second grade teacher Laura Lewis said the bottom line is the state frameworks have changed, the school's curriculum has changed, and the way the students are assessed must change to reflect those changes.

First grade teacher Joyce Rheaume said her students are excited about collecting samples of their work for their parents to see as part of their performance reports.

"I keep telling the children that it's important to remember everybody, even teachers, needs to improve and everybody can improve in their work," Mrs. Rheaume said.

Besides giving parents a better idea of how their child is performing at school, the new assessment system avoids negatively labeling and discouraging children at the beginning of their academic careers (when positive feedback is more important than letter grades, the teachers agreed).

"We're hoping we can keep the children feeling positive and good about their work so they'll want to continue to learn. And, the new report is more like what is found in the workplace. For the rest of their lives, they'll be assessed this way," according to fourth-grade teacher Cyndy Palazzi.

Children will also benefit from the new report cards when they are promoted to the next grade, move on to the Middle School, or move out of town because their new teachers will have a much better picture of their strengths and weaknesses, Mrs. Palazzi pointed out.

A Transitioning Day

"Eventually, we're hoping to have a transitioning day for our teachers to meet with the Middle School teachers who will be receiving our students to discuss their progress and skill levels," Mrs. Howard said.

The first page of the new student performance report for first and second graders rates student achievement in reading, writing, spelling, and math using a scale of one to five. A score of one indicates the student seldom produces work of satisfactory quality. A score of five means the student consistently produces work of high quality. A score of four means the student usually produces work of high quality, while two and three indicate the student usually or consistently produces work of satisfactory quality, respectively.

First and second graders are rated for their performance in art, health, music, physical education, science, social studies, and speaking/listening/social using a letter scale indicating outstanding, very satisfactory, needs improvement, improvement seen, and not satisfactory.

On the second page of the report, the academic skills are rated in several sub-sections for each academic area using the performance scale indicating skills ranging from outstanding to not satisfactory.

For example, math skills for first and second graders are rated in seven skills, including, understands math concepts, uses problem solving techniques, uses math vocabulary, and knows basic addition and subtraction facts. Third and fourth grade students are evaluated in nine separate skill areas in math.

Third and fourth graders will have their performance evaluated on a similar report, except that science and social studies will now appear as academic subject areas to be assessed using the achievement scale rather than the performance scale.

AHS "Art Student"...

STEPHAN FERREIRA (above), a junior at Agawam High School, is the "Art Student of the Month" for October. The son of Steve Ferreira of Ludlow and Lisa Ferreira of Agawam, Stephan enjoys music, computers, and drawing, and hopes to major in and make a career in art. Campus Visits Are Essential When It Comes To Making The Right Choice For College

GO BEYOND THE FACTS

How can you best learn what makes a college different from others with similar faculties, facilities, and curricula? The quick campus visit is a good beginning, but it may not take you far below the surface. Guide books, catalogues, and admissions officers alone can not convey those essential, subtle qualities which make one place different from another.

There is one very simple solution: try spending a day or two in the role of a student at the top few colleges on your list. This may help you narrow your list to that final college of choice.

Subjective factors — the "chemistry" between you and a college ultimately determines the quality of your experience there, both academically and socially.

College admission staff willingly invite students to sample the flavor of their campus by spending time on the campus, attending a variety of classes, speaking with students informally over meals in the dining commons, discussing your interests with members of the faculty, seeking out athletic coaches and directors of activities such as music, theater, art, and debate. They can also arrange for you to spend a night in a residence hall as the guest of a student host.

If you have not already had an interview, you may do so when you visit. (Be careful, some schools may have interview deadlines.) Call the admissions office at least one week in advance; you will usually be welcomed at any time except during exam and vacation periods.

Choosing a college is one of the most important decisions of your life. Do your homework thoroughly; base your choice upon careful research, good advice from your counselor, and most of all, first-hand experience.

If you have any questions or concerns about the college planning process, call you son's/daughter's guidance counselor.

AIRBRUSH ARTIST Sal Persico, who painted T-shirts at Agawam Junior High School earlier this month. Advertiser News photo by Jack Devine.

News From The Agawam Junior High School PTO

The Agawam Junior High School PTO held its first meeting on Monday, September 28th. Past meeting minutes, treasurer's report, and a report from this year's fundraising chairperson, were presented.

Six requests were discussed, voted on, and all approved.

The Art Department has requested funds to bring Mr. Sal Persico, an airbrush artist from Springfield into the school. They will raffle off two T-shirts per class that Mr. Persico will paint during that period. The Social Studies Department will once again bring Guy Morin (depicting a British soldier) and Robert Kennan (an American soldier) as they study the American Revolution.

Wendy Bradley-Terwilliger, the Substance Abuse Counselor, requested funds to purchase literature, posters, and flipcharts to aid her in tackling the issue of teen smoking. Funding was also requested for buses to transport the "peer mediators" to the Agawam Police Station for their three-day training and for prizes for "Project Rebound."

Last year, the eighth-grade students raised $209 in ticket sales from their annual celebration. The money was set aside to be donated to a local charity. Many ideas were raised, and it was decided to use the money to support the Agawam

Junior Women's Club in its effort to give holiday gifts to needy families in town.

Jim Frantz was a guest speaker who told us about an effort being undertaken to improve communication between students, parents, faculty, and the community. For more information, call 786-6974.

A reminder to all clubs, civic organizations, etc.: please remember to publicize your events at least two weeks in advance. Thank you - AAN!!!

Granger Elem. School Launches National "Technology" Prog.

Granger Elementary School announced recently that it has launched the national A-Plus America Free Technology For Schools program. Parents and community members who want our school to get the latest technology at no cost can make purchases from socially-responsible companies that give something back to our community.

There is no need to make extra purchases. Simply buy what you want from corporate sponsors and turn receipts into the school. It's that simple!

Granger Elementary School has already earned 411,635 points by participating and hopes to earn even more this year by involving more of our community.

Examples of corporate sponsors that have agreed to donate a significant percentage of their sales for each receipt (or UPC/bar code for non-retailers) turned into our school include:

Champs Sports, Pepboys, Lillian Vernon, Duracell (save UPC), Long John Silvers, Hood Dairy Products, Hit or Miss, The Men's Warehouse, The Sharper Image, Monro Muffler Brake, Bob's Stores, Shoemart at KMart, Chadwick's of Boston, Stonyfield Farm (save Yogurt cap), The Big Party.

Sprint is another example. Existing and new Sprint customers can set up their residential long distance account so that a percentage of their phone bill will automatically be credited to our school for free technology. On average, for each 80 Sprint customers registered to our school, the school will get a free multimedia computer every year, based on an industry average of $30 in long distance phone calls per month for each customer.

Our school ID number is 01030032, and the Sprint number to call is (800) 233-6080 for new customers, and (800) 268-9849 for existing customers.

A complete Sponsor Guide for our school is available from Wendy Matys at (413) 789-1400, or just send your receipts to Wendy Matys, c/o Granger Elementary School, 31 S. Westfield St., Feeding Hills, MA 01030-2701.

Other school officials interested in participating to earn free technology can call A-Plus America at (800) 706-5500.

If you are interested in joining this special group, please call the Western Massachusetts Regional Coordinator at 731-5051.

First Meeting Held To Discuss "Sixth Grade Washington Trip"

The first meeting to make plans for the "Sixth Grade Washington Trip" was held on October 8th in the Agawam Middle School cafeteria.

At this meeting, the agenda was discussed and it was decided by those attending that the trip should be increased by one day. There is so much to see in Washington, D.C. that some sites had to be missed to allow for others. Now we hope to get more in with a little less rushing.

The cost of the trip, with the increase of one day, will cost no more than $475 per student. This price covers everything but personal spending money.

Each student is able to earn money toward the trip by selling candy bars through our fundraiser, which will be kicking off early next month. Candy will be able to be picked up by parents at the next meeting (to be announced). A deposit for the trip must be received before any candy can be taken by a family.

Persons who are eligible for this trip must be sixth graders who live in Agawam or attend Agawam Middle School. (This is not an Agawam school trip.)

Chaperones will be needed for the trip, as the ratio of student-to-chaperone will be four to one. Anyone interested in chaperoning (trip will cost somewhat less than student cost) should enclose a memo with his/her child's deposit expressing so.

Deposits of $50 are being accepted now, with additional payments due in December, January, and February. Checks should be made out to the Washington Trip Account and mailed in care of Rachel Thomas, 43 Janelle Dr., Agawam, MA 01001-2735. If you have any further questions, please call 786-9896 in the evening.

Look for correspondence and information from flyers through school and The Agawam Advertiser News.

Girls' Gymnastics Still Unbeaten...

Brownies Take Tri-Meet & Gear Up For Westfield

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

The Agawam High girls' gymnastics team, at presstime, is unbeaten at 8-0 (7-0 in the league). The defending Western Mass. champs' last two wins were a week ago in a tri-meet against Minnechaug Regional and Amherst Regional.

It's a great feeling for Coach Angela Sullivan. "We have so many talented kids on this team. Our headliners are (co-captain) Lindsey Hadden, a senior, and junior Leila Sekkal. But the other ones excel because they use Lindsey and Leila as role models," the coach noted.

Hadden and Sekkal battle on the bars for the top spot in every competition. However, senior Amanda Peters and sophomore Elizabeth Clark are close behind them.

In last week's meet, Clark tied Sekkal for third with a 7.25. Also, solid senior co-captain Lisa Marsh is starting to work on the bars — a discipline she hasn't attempted before.

Most of the kids execute a handspring on the vault. Sekkal and freshman Sara Tremblay have put a little spice into their routine with a handspring into a twist, according to the coach.

Sekkal and Hadden are usually one, two on the beam. The coach noted that Marsh is starting to come on in that exercise as well.

Sekkal is still tops on the floor. She took first last week. But Sullivan noted that freshman Michelle Cote is performing well, too. Cote had a second in the Minnechaug/Amherst meet.

Sekkal and Hadden are usually somewhere in the top three for the all-around title, as they have been for most of their careers.

"So far this year, we are ahead of where we were last season. And we still haven't reached our full potential yet," Sullivan said.

At presstime, they were preparing for a big meet at Gateway Regional against Gateway and Westfield High. The Bombers are 7-1 and a major roadblock in the way of another Western Mass. title for Agawam.

"After Thursday (October 15th), we'll have a good idea of just where we stand," Sullivan said.

Minnechaug Gets Revenge...

Agawam Falls To Falcons, 27-13, In Schoolboy Football Contest

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

Minnechaug Regional quarterback Mike McCloskey had a bone to pick with the Brownies last Saturday afternoon before a decent Columbus Day Weekend crowd at soggy Harmon Smith Field.

To be more specific, it had to do with a bone in his ankle which the Brownies broke in their 35-20 win in Wilbraham last season. It knocked the senior out for the final six games in 1997.

"Yeah, I had plenty of time to think about it," McCloskey said. Then he added, "Revenge is nice."

So it was, as the Falcons rode the emotion of their signal caller (21-33, 230 yards, 1 TD; plus 1 TD on the ground) to a 27-13 win. The Brownies suffered no broken bones in this one, but did manage to shoot themselves in the foot with four turnovers, three of them coming in the second half when they were working on a 7-all tie.

Banging Heads Through First Quarter

Both clubs basically banged heads throughout the first quarter, which was highlighted by a Brian Gallagher 11-yard run, a sack of McCloskey by Bob Fuller, and some tough defense courtesy of Marc Pedraza, who was slightly injured himself. "Marc is nursing a sprained ankle," Coach Dean Vecchiarelli noted.

Agawam found itself camped on the Minnechaug 23 to start the second 12 minutes. They worked the ball to the 19 yard line behind some good running by Gallagher. On second and 13, senior tailback Mike O'Connor got the call and swept around left end for a 19-yard score with 2:04 gone. Agawam went up 7-0 on the extra point.

The ensuing kickoff saw the Falcons nesting deep in their own territory at the 13. They started to march and managed, behind an assortment of McCloskey ariels, to move the ball to their own on a fourth and seven, at the 43. Falcon Coach John Mayo decided to gamble. The pass was incomplete and the Brownies took it over in superb field position. They promptly coughed up the ball, which led, eventually, to Minnechaug's first score of the game — a two-yard plunge by McCloskey. The extra point knotted it up at seven, with 2:25 left in the half. It stayed that way until the horn sounded.

Locals Get First Crack

Agawam had first crack in the second half. A 10-yard kick-off return by Jason Daigneau brought the ball to the Brownie 35. Another Agawam fumble, at 42, saw the Falcons perched on the verge of another score.

Wideout Perry Moss executed a hook-and-go and McCloskey hit him in stride for the touchdown (McCloskey's seventh in four games). The fumble set the Brownies back to the tune of 14-7, with just 16 ticks off the game clock.

Agawam utilized Gallagher after the kickoff. The big guy, playing on pure guts because of his bad shoulder, bulldozed ahead on runs of nine, four, and two yards, taking the ball from the 23 to the 37 yard line. Everyone in the joint knew his separated, but strapped, left shoulder could go at anytime. They managed to move the ball to the Falcon 42, but the offense fizzled out, leading to a punt.

The Agawam defense was up to the task, with Jerry Graves, Pedraza, and Mike Lovely in on a gang sack to stop a McCloskey third on three on the Falcon 47.

Agawam came back behind some good offensive line play from Fuller, Frank Ferrantino, and others. On a third and four from their own 35, quarterback Brian St. Jean fired a completion to Daigneau at the Brownie 42. The usually sure-handed receiver turned and started his sprint. A glancing blow knocked the ball loose and a Falcon swooped down on it, giving the visitors a first and 10 at the Agawam 44.

A combination of runs and passing saw Minnechaug on the Brownie 12 with 9:32 left in the game. From there, running back Matt Livermore took the ball in for the third Falcon score. The extra point saw Agawam sink deeper into the hole, 21-7.

The Falcons would score once more with 3:15 to go. Gallagher would get his fifth TD of the season, with 28 seconds left. The loss saw Agawam fall to 2-2 and 1-1 in the AA Conference. Minnechaug has an identical record.

AGAWAM STATS: RUSHING - Gallagher (17-70, TD); Pedraza (4-4); O'Connor (1-19, TD); Daigneau (3-7); St. Jean (2-2). PASSING - St. Jean (9 att., 5 comp., 69 yards, 1 int). RECEIVING - Daigneau (4-81); Pedraza (1-6). DEFENSE - Sacks (Graves 1/3; Pedraza 1/3; Lovely 1/3; Fuller 1).

BROWNIE NOTES: Agawam will travel to Holyoke this Friday evening for a contest against the Purple Knights — a playoff team they beat handily, 33-8, last year. And our condolences go out to Coach Dean Vecchiarelli and his family, whose dad, Phil, a popular AHS football follower, passed away on Tuesday of last week.

Will Holyoke High Even The Score????...

AHS Football To Face Purple Knights On The Road This Friday

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

If Minnechaug Regional had a beef with Agawam High, you can imagine how it's going to be when the Brownies journey to Holyoke High on Friday night for a game against the Purple Knights.

You might remember last year when the Paper City team traveled to Harmon Smith Field. It left dragging behind a 33-8 loss, which must be a season-long albatross around the necks of the Division IA Super Bowl representatives.

You might also recall that Brian Gallagher had a career game against them, rushing for 256 yards and four touchdowns on 33 carries.

Holyoke is going into this game with a 3-1 record against Agawam's 2-2 slate. The Brownies will have to stop an offense that runs out of the I and boasts many weapons. One of them is All-Western Mass. running back Marcus Humber. The 5'8", 210-pound senior has three touchdowns on the ground and he has thrown for one, which makes him a double threat.

While he isn't the fastest back the Brownies have faced so far, he is probably the most powerful and will be dangerous should the Knights knock on the Agawam door anywhere close to the goal line.

If Humber isn't enough to give a defense fits, then Holyoke's senior quarterback, Fernando Rodriguez, will fill the bill. He has four TD's on the ground and one through the air so far and is a big-time threat on the rollout.

When Rodriguez rolls, he can also exercise the option. The guy on the receiving end will most likely be Rafael Martinez, a sophomore who has three TD receptions this year. Martinez isn't that big, but his 4.4 speed will put pressure on the Agawam defensive backs. Tight end Hector Reyes, a 5'11", 230-pound senior, is another outlet guy and a good blocker on sweeps.

The Holyoke offensive line features 6'3", 300-pound guard Erich Mann and 6'2", 235-pound tackle Tim Pratt. They're excellent blockers, especially on the sweeps featured by the Knights. The line averages 220 pounds per man.

Defensively, they feature a 4-4 or 4-3 set. Their defensive line is anchored by 6', 230-pound Brendon Quinn. Their linebackers, led by Humber and 5'7", 210-pound senior Keimy Rodriguez, are experienced, active, and not afraid to blitz. Their defensive backs, not known as interceptors, are fast and can cover, and are equally proficient at zone or man.

JV Football Vs Minnechaug...

Brownies Pluck The Falcons' Wings, 16-0

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

Two days after the Minnechaug Regional varsity football team came to town, the junior varsity players showed up at Harmon Smith Field for an 11:00 a.m. game on Monday, Columbus Day (October 12th).

While the big guys had somewhat of a problem keeping possession of the football, the young Brownies gave a clinic on how to drive an offense crazy.

On their way to a 16-0 win, the Brownies recorded two interceptions by Phil Sampson and Jeff Tedone; a fumble recovery by Edwin Torres; and an incredible 10 sacks.

The sackmasters were led by sophomore Isidro Aquinaga (four), Tony Liquori (3½), Nick Beaudette (one), and junior Dennis Liptak (1½). Liptak also had a blocked punt.

These kids chased the Falcons' quarterbacks all the way to Wilbraham and back, or so it seemed.

Agawam's first touchdown came two minutes into the second quarter on a third and 20 at the Minnechaug 32-yard line. Brownie quarterback Vic Romano (1-6, 1 TD, 1 int.) rolled left and spotted Alex Almquist all alone over the middle for the score. Romano ran for the two-point conversion, putting his club up, 8-0.

Romano ran for the next Agawam touchdown. The 6'3", 175-pound junior executed a quarterback keeper on second and four at Minnechaug's 37 with 1:30 gone in the fourth quarter. And 63 yards later, he crossed the goal line. The two-point try failed, but the Brownies had too much defense for the Falcons the rest of the way.

Peach Basket Festival Tennis Tournament Set For Nov. 7th-8th

The annual Peach Basket Festival Tennis Tournament, a competition for men's doubles in two divisions, is set for November 7th and 8th at the Ludlow Tennis Club.

The events are A division for players in the 4.0-4.5 levels, and the B division for players in the 3.0-3.5 levels.

Entry fee is $25 per team. Entries may be phoned to chairman Elaine Dill at 267-5889 or to the Ludlow Tennis Club at 589-0666.

Attractive prizes will be awarded to the winners and runners-up in each division. In addition, special Peach Basket gifts will be given to the first 50 entries. Lunch will be served to all contestants on the first day of the tournament, Saturday, November 7th. Major sponsors are Spalding Sports Worldwide and the Independent Insurance Agents of Hampden County.

The tennis tourney is one of three sporting competitions leading up to the Peach Basket Festival's marquee event, the annual Tip-Off Classic, which this year features Kansas and Nevada-Las Vegas on November 27th at the Springfield Civic Center.

Working with Dill on the tennis committee are John Hughes (general manager of the Ludlow Tennis Club), Fred and Andrea LaPlace, Jerry Radding, and Bill Sullivan.

In last year's tournament finals, A.J. Chakrabati and Mark Gelinas of South Hadley beat Springfield's Edsel Ford and Hartford's Calvin Dees in the A division. John Teller of Palmer and Mike Lazzari of Hampden took the B division title.

Another Weapon

And they have another weapon, which might play a role should it be a close game, in place kicker Tim Lastowski. He already has a 32-yard field goal this season in their 23-13 win over Amherst.

Agawam must be aggressive in this one. When they back off a bit, trouble is usually not far behind. This week, Coach Dean Vecchiarelli has been stressing hard-hitting, in-your-face football on both offense and defense.

The Brownies may go with more speed in the backfield. Mike O'Connor could pair up with Gallagher. Gallagher still has the shoulder problem, but he doesn't let it bother him on offense or defense. Quarterback Brian St. Jean injured his throwing wrist in the Minnechaug game. He has practiced sparingly this week and is day-to-day. If he can't go, Jason Daigneau will be the signal caller.

In their four games, Holyoke has averaged 19.25 points to Agawam's 18.25. The Knights have given up 17 points a game. The Brownies have allowed 20.25. Neither club has played a common opponent.

Cathedral Blitzes Brownies, 6-0

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

There was a raging Panther loose at Harmon Smith Field on a damp and dark Tuesday evening and there wasn't a tranquilizer gun to be found.

That Panther was of the purple variety as in the Cathedral High School girls' soccer team. They clawed the Brownies to the tune of 6-0.

Agawam Coach Mary Murray had said before the game that Cathedral could be beaten. Indeed, they had fallen to a Central Mass. power after winning their first 10 contests this season and had recently tied West Springfield.

But Murray, who coached Cathedral girls' soccer for many years before coming to the Brownies, probably harbored a doubt or two, or three.

Those doubts might have surfaced from the get-go when the Panthers started out in high gear, went to overdrive, then hit light speed. They had two testing shots on the Brownie net with under two minutes gone in the game. They had Agawam stuck in its own zone without a shot on net for most of the initial 10 minutes of the first half.

At 28:04, Casey Fitzgerald launched a rocket from 40 feet out in the center of the box. Only a gutsy effort by sophomore keeper Laura Bucalo stopped a score. By this time, the defense in front of her was being asked to play a little too much 'D.' But fullbacks Amanda Merola, Kate Shannon, Kara Tierney, and sweeper Sheri Benton stepped up and took the Panthers' best shots. Tierney dove into a crowd with 13:30 gone and kicked a ball headed for an open left corner and out of harm's way.

Agawam had its first serious penetration into the Cathedral zone at 24:17. Their first shot on net, a weak effort, came with 20:43 left in the half. By that time, the visitors had recorded six bids and all were substantial, at that.

Just A Matter Of Time

It was just a matter of time before the Panthers' offensive onslaught paid off. With 19:03 to play, Cindy Lilly launched 40 feet out on the left side of the box and hit the upper right corner of the Agawam net. The Panthers had another prime opportunity three minutes later when the ball rattled around loose 20 feet in front of the Agawam net. Bucalo went down trying to track the ball. A shot screamed out of the crowd, but senior captain Jess Dutton managed to get a foot on it for a deflection.

Agawam was trying to mount some kind of offense behind Gina Loudfoot, Amanda Tilden, Jill Gendron, and Ann Paquette. The Cathedral midfielders, however, were heading off their attacks at the top of the zone and dumping the ball back towards the Brownie goal.

With 7:09 left, a lofted shot from the top of the box had a bead on the high right corner. Bucalo leapt and knocked the ball away. The rebound came out and the outstanding Mary McVeigh, off a Melanie Mucha assist, tapped it home. Make the score 2-0, Cathedral.

It had to be a frustrating time for the Brownies. Their defense was not playing all that poorly, but their offense just couldn't get untracked at all. Agawam was just fighting for survival as the half wound down. The 2-0 deficit they saw on the board when the siren sounded could have been worse. Agawam had one first-half shot on goal. The Panthers took 11, most of them hard and right on.

The Brownies were back on defense from the beginning of the second half. With 3:10 gone, however, Paquette hustled down the right wing, had a lane from 50 feet out, but couldn't get off a shot. A minute later, Tierney let one go from the right wing that was right on. Cathedral keeper Crystal Stanton was right on it, however.

With 7:16 gone, the Agawam defense dug in behind Benton and Merola. But too many Panther chances saw another score at 32:11 and for all intents and purposes, with Cathedral up 3-0, the game was all purple.

Senior Franca Bonavita replaced Bucalo shortly after that score. The sophomore who'd filled in for the injured starter had played well and the fans gave her a warm ovation. Murray just felt Bonavita should be back in the net. A minute after she settled in, McVeigh welcomed her back with a 40-foot rocket from the left side of the box that sailed over Bonavita's outstretched hands. It was McVeigh's second score of the game, and it was a great one at that.

Cathedral would hit the back of the net twice more before it was over. The final score on Agawam was an own goal, thus topping off a frustrating evening. The Brownies had six shots on net for a total of seven. Cathedral took seven for a game total of 18. Agawam fell to 4-5-3. Cathedral, which has clinched a playoff berth in the Coombs Division, went to 11-1-1 and will undoubtedly be the top seed in the Division I Western Mass. Tournament.

Goalie Franca Bonavita Has Confidence In This Year's Girls' Varsity Soccer Team

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

Agawam High girls' soccer goalie Franca Bonavita is into her senior season with the Brownies. She is 17 years-old and is a member of the Class of 1999. Her four years of secondary education have been spent at AHS.

She has completed all her required courses and now has a chance to study some subjects that she hopes will aid her in the future. "Currently, I'm taking psychology, sociology, and English. I'm a year ahead in my math, having finished them last year," she noted. Her favorite course is psychology. Psychology instructor Edward Merrill is her top teacher.

Franca already has a college in mind - Fordham University in the Bronx, New York. She would like to pursue a career in child psychology.

She is solely a soccer player at Agawam High School. In the past, however, she played basketball and spun the discus in track and field. Franca has been a soccer goalie since she was 10 years-old and it is her favorite place to play in the sport.

"I think my most memorable sports moment came two summers ago at the Suffield (Connecticut) Tournament. I was the goalie on the 18 year-old team and we won the championship in that division," she smiled.

She has this take on the High School team so far this season: "We're better than a lot of people think we are. The start was slow, but we had big wins over Westfield, Central, and East Longmeadow. That one over EL was especially pleasing because last year, they kept us out of the division championship." AHS is 4-5-3 at presstime.

She likes to chow down on angel hair pasta, with a marinara sauce on top. Blue is her favorite color. "I used to have a goalie uniform that was blue and green," the senior said. Her favorite set of wheels is a Dodge Viper. "No, I don't own one," she pointed out.

Professional soccer goalie Tony Meola is her favorite athlete. The New England Revolution in the Men's Professional Soccer League is her top team.

When Franca kicks back, it is usually at Hampton Beach, noting that there are so many kids there, things are always interesting. She dresses in American Eagle and Abercrombie & Fitch duds, with her taste running to the casual.

"I like all kinds of music, but my favorite is the Dave Mathews Band," Franca said. Her top offering on the tube is "Dawson's Creek." "Armageddon" is her favorite flick.

Franca's mom is Adele. Anthony is her dad. She has a brother, Carlo, who is currently a sophomore at Fordham.

Girls' Soccer Vs Spartans...

Brownies Leave East Longmeadow With Satisfying 1-0 Victory

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

The Agawam High girls' soccer team went into East Longmeadow last Friday night. They were on a roll, coming off a 2-all tie against a tough and ranked Longmeadow High team, and a 2-1 win over a pretty solid Central High club. The Brownies would record the only score they would need in their 1-0 win over ELM with 1:54 gone in the game.

Junior midfielder Jen Lyman got it (her third of the season) out of a melee in front. The ball was sent into the crowd by wing Gina Loudfoot, for her second assist of the year.

The Agawam offense then forced the Spartans to play defense until 29:39, when they finally got the ball consistently past midfield and into the Brownie zone. Agawam gave them less than 30 seconds of offensive opportunity before some tough midfield play by Jill Gendron, Amanda Tilden, Amy Paquette, Loudfoot, and fullback Kate Shannon punched the ball back into ELM territory.

The Spartans' first shot on the Agawam net came at 22:50 (so dominating was the Brownie defense led by sweeper Sheri Benton and fullbacks Kara Tierney and Amanda Merola). With 22:20 gone in the half, East Longmeadow had spent only 1:15 of that time in the Agawam zone.

Agawam had more chances in the first half. With 6:50 left, Pam Gervais just missed an open left corner from 60 feet out. There were three minutes to go when Loudfoot, who is always around the ball, had a shot from the middle of the box and lofted it just over the crossbar. The half ended at 1-0, Agawam. The Brownies had six shots on net. East Longmeadow had one.

FRANCA BONAVITA

She says her parents are people she looks up to, along with a cousin, Oni, who attended Longmeadow High.

When her days are done at AHS, Franca would like to be remembered as a good kid with a sense of humor who was also a good soccer player.

Her coach, Mary Murray, had this to say of her senior keeper: "Franca came in ready this year and beat out eight other candidates for the starting job. She has talent and skill."

Franca is coming back after a two-week layoff because of an elbow injury. She performed admirably and with great team spirit for AHS before being injured.

The Brownie Defense Was Not Impressed...

The Spartans came out strong to start the second half. The Brownie defense was not impressed. Midfielder Melissa Cote (who played an outstanding game), Gendron, and Kornelia Moysis stepped up and busted up the effort. Sophomore keeper Laura Bucalo made the save of the game with 11:51 gone in the second half. A Spartan drive from 15 yards out on the left forced her to go airborne and parallel to the ground for the stop.

East Longmeadow seemed to find a charge around the 22:58 mark. Much as they had done against Central, the Agawam defense labored to blunt the Spartans' rush. Benton broke up a Spartan thrust down the right wing that could have spelled trouble.

Bucalo, playing superb goal since coming in for the injured Franca Bonavita two weeks ago, had two more outstanding saves — one with 6:20 left, and another at the 3:21 mark to preserve the shutout and the win. Agawam had five second-half shots on net for a total of 11. East Longmeadow came in with four and a total of five.

ELM's keeper also had a strong game and made a spectacular save off a Cote headball that came from a corner kick midway through the second half.

The win raised the Agawam record to 4-4-3. East Longmeadow fell to 3-6-1.

"We'll take the win. We're on a four-game unbeaten streak. They played well in this one. The important thing is that I didn't want them to lose their momentum here and they didn't. We now have 11 points in 11 games. That is good for us, so far," Brownie Coach Mary Murray stressed.

Boys' Soccer Vs West Side... AHS Frustrated By 1-0 Loss To Terriers In Smith Division

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

The Agawam High boys' soccer team had an evening which was almost as frustrating as that of the Brownie girls vs. Cathedral. They traveled to West Springfield High for a battle against the undefeated archrival Terriers and came away with a 1-0 loss in the Smith Division contest.

For most of the way it was a defensive battle that seemed to be headed for a scoreless tie. It would have made some sense, too. West Side already had four ties to go along with four wins and no losses. Agawam was 4-4-2.

Then, with 11:01 to go in the game, the Terriers got the only score they would need, despite some heavy pressure by Barry Ward, Brian Lopes, Jay Flood, and Jonathan Ashwell. Ward and Ashwell, in particular, had great opportunities as the game wound down.

Ward, just before West Side scored, almost took advantage of a mistake when a Terriers defender back-kicked the ball in front of the goalmouth. Ward was there and had a header from 20 feet out with some room to maneuver. But it bounced off his noggin' and over the crossbar.

With 1:20 to go and the Brownies in full attack mode, a shooting lane opened for Flood who was in the box on the right side. The entire left side of the goal was his. He launched a hard ground ball that just went a foot by the left post.

Brownie Coach Dwight Northrup looked at things this way: "Sure, I was disappointed with the loss. But I wasn't disappointed with the effort the kids put out. We had plenty of opportunities to score, both in the first and second halves. It just wasn't meant to be."

The Brownies' record went to 4-5-2 and 1-3 in the tough Smith Division. West Springfield rose to 5-0-4 and 3-0-2 in the Smith.

This Week In Junior Varsity And Freshman Sports Action

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

JV BOYS' SOCCER - The Agawam High junior varsity boys' soccer team beat West Springfield High Tuesday night, 1-0, to run its record to 10-0-1. Aaron Gilbert got the Brownies' goal 22 seconds into the game on an assist by Josh Dickman. The Agawam defense was highlighted by good performances courtesy of sweeper Matt Quinn and stopper Jim Evans.

FRESHMAN BOYS' SOCCER - The freshman boys' soccer team beat West Springfield, 2-1, Tuesday afternoon. Both young Brownie scores happened in the first half. Number one came on a penalty shot by Adam Rovithis. Brian Hearn got the second on an assist from Matt Ligenza. Their record now stands at 7-0-1.

JV GIRLS' SOCCER - The junior varsity girls' soccer team lost their second game of the season, 3-1, to Cathedral Tuesday evening. They had given up only two goals in 10 games to that point. "It just wasn't our night," Coach Lynda Kunasek said of the festivities. Desiree Marsili scored the lone Brownie goal. They now stand at 9-2.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL - The freshman football team came away with a 12-12 tie against Minnechaug last Friday afternoon. They were on the young Falcons' two-yard line with time running out, but according to Coach Chris Benjamin, they were out of timeouts and, therefore, couldn't get in the play they felt would have led to the winning score. They fell to 1-2.

"Enthusiasm" Distinguishes The AHS Girls' Volleyball Season

by Dave Rollins
Sports Editor

The Agawam High girls' volleyball team was scheduled to play at Westfield Tuesday afternoon. But the Bombers' gym had some technical problems, which forced postponement of the game. So, Coach Pat Demers had a chance to reflect on her first-year team, which is 0-8, but making the effort.

Demers feels there is one essential ingredient for her club to grab their initial victory for the program: "They need more confidence in their ability to put a whole game together. Now they are playing as a team. That's a step in the right direction," she noted.

Enthusiasm A Strong Point

The coach feels their enthusiasm is a strong point. "I stress to them that the game is fun and should be approached that way," Demers said. They still have to work on their passing, which is just what they did in lieu of the Westfield game. "It's one pass, two passes, and shoot. They're getting the picture slowly, but surely. You can't be a spiker without the good passing game," she said.

They are serving well, according to the coach. Because of that, the points are starting to come. "We've been going to three games in our most recent matches (matches are the best two of three games) and scoring 10 or 12 points in those games. Now, we have to learn to close out those games."

In their last match against Belchertown High, they fell in three games. But it was the closest they'd been to a victory all season.

"We were up 10-8 in the final game before they came back and beat us. We just aren't used to being in that position," Demers said. "The kids can feel our first win is just around the corner."

There are a bunch of kids who are improving with each match. Sophomore Kara Barnes and senior Shelley Rose are two mentioned by the coach. "They are both scrappers," she said. Elizabeth Stieg, a sophomore, was another one who received praise from the coach. "All the starters are improving, actually. Among them is Nina Konig. Nina was so shy when she first came out. Now she's outgoing and an important member of the team."

The team leader is senior Juliana Battista, an exchange student from Brazil. "Juliana has a great deal of experience in volleyball and acts as a role model for the others," Demers said. Another senior who has performed well is Barbara Maloni of basketball and track fame.

"This will also be a chance for our Champions to say 'thanks' and share their thoughts on the radio." The three-hour event will be broadcast live on KIX 97.9 FM, a popular country radio station in Springfield, MA.

"I hope we can start a tradition by con-

Upland Game Opener Set For Saturday

Area hunters will be taking to the fields and woods on Saturday, October 17th, for the opening of the Massachusetts upland game season. Pheasant have been stocked by the Division in open covers throughout Western Massachusetts.

Wildlife management areas will host the largest group of hunters for the traditionally crowded opening day. Rabbit hunters, along with grouse and woodcock hunters, will make up the balance of the sportsmen enjoying this long-awaited event.

Safety is and should be the number-one concern. We have had a very good record in this state regarding hunter safety. Let's keep it that way! Always keep the safety on until you are ready to squeeze the trigger. Unload the weapon before crossing streams or in any situation where falls could occur.

Those of us who use hunting dogs are reminded that a hunting dog is an athlete. You can't expect world-class performance from your canine partner if he has been lounging around the house all year.

Try to get him out in the field in advance of opening day. Let the dog get some exercise in the open and use this opportunity to reinforce commands and obedience. Opening day is not the time to find out that Rover has gotten so excited by the presence of other dogs and all the shooting, that obedience is forgotten.

After the hunt, take the time to examine your dog to make sure that there are no ticks embedded in his skin or hiding in the dog's fur. Pay attention to the dog's paws. Look for cut pads, thorns, or foreign objects wedged between the toes.

If the dog has been hunting in an area that has poison ivy, oak, or sumac, give him a bath before letting the family handle him. This is a lesson that was learned the hard way! Common sense also tells us to carefully wash your hunting clothes if you have been tramping around in the wrong sort of vegetation.

This may seem like redundant advice for experienced hunters, but a good friend who will only be referred to by his recent nickname of "Itchy" found out the hard way. After his setter retrieved a downed pheasant, "Itchy" lavished praise on the dog and gave him an enthusiastic pet and hug.

It was a damp morning and the dog had been working thick cover on the edge of a meadow. The morning's coffee had run its course, according to the biological laws of fluid dynamics, and ... oh, well, you can guess the rest! By afternoon, "Itchy" was in agony and I was looking to buy stock in the company that makes calamine lotion!

The following is a synopsis of the Massachusetts hunting regulations as published by the Division of Fisheries and Wildlife:

Eddy Carroll III Adds Regional Title To His Credentials

Eddy Carroll III completed an outstanding 1998 season by capturing his third consecutive Riverside Park Pro Stock Championship, and joined a select group of drivers by also earning the 1998 NASCAR Winston Shorttrack Series New England Regional Championship.

Carroll, who resides in Suffield, Connecticut, will accept his award at the NASCAR Winston Racing Series Banquet in Nashville, Tennessee on November 7th.

Carroll, born in 1967, recalls the days of "watching NASCAR modifieds at Riverside Park Speedway while growing up," and should know a thing or two about the 50 year-old facility. It was Carroll's grandfather, Edward Carroll, Sr., who built the race track inside the amusement park in 1948. "My father and brother started racing at Riverside Park in the late 1980's and asked if I wanted to race as well," said Carroll. "I continued to race after both of them left."

Over the next 10 years, Carroll honed his skills under the tutelage of chassis specialist Thomas "Butch" Shea and has been the Pro Stock driver to beat at Riverside Park for three years running. Despite being the top gun in the Serv-U Auto Supply Pro Stock Division in 1998, Carroll says the toughest part of winning the Regional Championship was winning the track championship first. "Without the track championship," says Carroll, "I would not have qualified for tier number one in the regional standings." Carroll won the 1998 track title by only two points over runner-up Todd Owen of Somers, Connecticut.

"I'm very proud to have Eddy (Carroll III) accept this award in Nashville," says Director of Auto Racing Joe Lewandoski. "His accomplishments are a tribute to the level of competition here at the park."

Carroll also feels that drivers in the Northeast are faced with additional challenges at their local tracks. "The Northern tracks use a handicap system where the points leader usually starts in the rear of the field," says Carroll, "making it difficult to have consistent top five finishes." Carroll had 12 top five finishes in 19 starts this season.

The NASCAR Winston Shorttrack Series was started in 1998 to increase the recognition of more drivers at local NASCAR sanctioned tracks across the country. Similar to the NASCAR Winston Racing Series, drivers' performances are measured on an index and ranked against other drivers on a regional basis. The NASCAR Winston Racing Series ranks the drivers in each track's premier division, while the Winston Shorttrack Series recognizes each track's second division.

Carroll, and the rest of the Pro Stock field at Riverside Park, will return to action on October 31st and November 1st for the Enfield Pontiac 400. Pro Stocks will run 75 laps on November 1st, along with 100 laps for the "Tour Type" Modifieds, 75 laps for the SK Modifieds and five other divisions of racing. Qualifying for all eight divisions takes place on Saturday, October 31st.

Catholic University Remains In 1st Place In Tri-Parish Bowling

On Monday, October 5th, Catholic University managed to hold onto first place in the Tri-Parish Bowling League with a 11.5-4.5 record, followed closely by St. Michael's 10-6 and Fordham's 9-7.

In the middle of the pack, a four-way tie (at 8-8) involved St. Louis, Notre Dame, Boston College, and St. Mary's. Holy Cross wound up with a 7-9 record, and St. Anselm's (6.5-9.5) and Georgetown (6-10) continued to bring up the "rear" of the league. (However, it must be said that St. A's should have been somewhat happy on this particular night, since they ended up in ninth place rather than "dead last" like they did the week before.)

Although Catholic U. is currently the league leader, they didn't particularly shine on this night, as they managed only a 2-2 split with Boston College. Meanwhile, Georgetown and Fordham split the evening at 2-2, too.

St. Mary was 3-1 versus Notre Dame, and St. Anselm's dominated Holy Cross by the same score, 3-1. And, 3-1 (are you experiencing a sense of déjà vu here?) was the result of St. Louis' victory over St. Michael's.

With a 175 single string and a 409 triple string, GLEN "Not Sam" ADAMS led the men in high scoring on October 5th. Other "macho men" on the lanes were BILL "Black and Blue" GRAY (144 single, 387 triple), "Richy" RICH SNYDER (148, 362), "Burly" BILL BURLINGHAM (118, 342), "Scary" LARRY VIENS (123, 338), and FRANK "The Tank" CERPOVICZ (134, 327).

The ladies managed to impress, too, with "Tessy" BETSY CANNON outrolling all the gals with a 127 single string and a 359 triple string. "The Mighty" DEBBIE POIRIER (124 single, 318 triple) had to settle with being the second-best "alley girl" on this particular evening, and her fellow "lofty ladies of the lanes" included "Jumpin'" JAN FULLER (120, 316), BARBARA "Barb Wire" HOWARD (124, 314), CORI "The Corker" NAPOLITAN (109, 305), and "Terrific" TERRY DION (108, 289).

Master Hwang's Golf Classic To Be Held Fri., October 16th

On Friday, October 16th, the third annual Master Hwang's Golf Classic will be held at the Elmcrest Country Club in East Longmeadow.

Featuring 18 holes of golf, lunch, carts, and dinner, this event will benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Western and Central Massachusetts.

The classic will offer hole-in-one prizes and raffles, including a chance to win a 1998 Buick Century from Houser Buick.

A barbecue will begin the festivities from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., and the competition (with a shotgun scramble format) is set to take place at 11:30 a.m. The dinner has been scheduled for 6:00 p.m.

What's more, a Tae Kwon-Do demonstration will take place at 6:00 p.m., featuring the Junior Tae Kwon-Do Team and Agawam Black Belts.

The founder and chairman of this tournament is Ray Shugart of Hwang's School of Tae Kwon-Do of Agawam. For last-minute information on how you can participate in this event and help a worthy cause, call Shugart at 786-4158 or Steve Cotela at Elmcrest Country Club at (413) 525-8444.
